

A cookie is a small piece of letters and numbers that a website asks your browser to store on your computer or mobile device. Cookies are used to help users navigate websites efficiently and perform certain functions. Cookies are created when a user's browser loads a particular website.

Therefore, when you return to websites or visit websites that use the same cookies – they recognize these cookies and your browsing device. Cookies permit to remember your preferences. We may use cookies to distinguish you from other users and to support the marketing of our services including evaluation of our site's advertising and promotional effectiveness. Cookies on Fidus Investments Cyprus Limited website help us to improve our site and your user experience.

Some cookies expire when the browser closes, while others remain on your computer unless you delete them.

You may delete cookies whenever you like but by deleting cookies and disabling future cookies you may not be able to access certain areas or features of our site.

Consent to use of cookies

Cookies collect information about how visitors use the site, for instance which pages visitors go to most often, and if they get error messages from web pages. These cookies do not collect information which identifies a visitor and Fidus Investments Cyprus Limited will not use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you. All information is aggregated and maintained anonymous. By using our website, you give consent that we can place these types of cookies on your device and agree that you understand this Cookies Policy.

How to control and delete cookies

If you wish to restrict or block the cookies, or if you wish to receive notification of cookie placement requests or decline cookies completely, you can do this through your browser settings. The Help function within your browser should tell you how.

You may wish to visit www.aboutcookies.org which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers as well as more general information about cookies.

Security

We will take reasonable precautions to protect personal information in our possession from loss, misuse and unauthorised access, disclosure, alteration and destruction. You should be aware, however, that communications over the Internet (which includes e-mails to Fidus Investments Cyprus limited and registering as a user on our website) are not secure unless they have been encrypted and we do not accept any responsibility for any errors or omissions which arise from circumstances outside of our reasonable control.

Our website may contain links to other websites that are operated by third parties. Other websites may also reference or link to our website. We cannot be responsible for the privacy practices or content of those other websites.

Policy changes

We may modify or amend this Cookie Policy from time to time at our discretion. We encourage you to periodically review this Cookie Policy to be informed about how we are using cookies.

Enquiries

Any questions or concerns which you may have about this policy should be emailed to info@fidusinvestments.eu. We will attempt to resolve any concerns regarding use and disclosure of personal information in accordance with this policy.

For more information about us, and how we protect visitor information, please see our Privacy policy.