4. Information required to be disclosed under Regulatory Technical Standard 28 of MiFID II

- a) An explanation of the relative importance the firm gave to the execution factors of price, costs, speed, likelihood of execution or any other consideration including qualitative factors when assessing the quality of execution.

In selecting the appropriate Execution Venue for a specific transaction and by taking into consideration the client's classification, the company considers the following execution factors:

- available price in the market;
- transaction costs (including commission, execution, clearing and settlement costs);
- speed of execution;
- the likelihood of execution and settlement (depending on liquidity in the particular market);
- the size and nature of the transaction; and
- Any other consideration that the company deems to be relevant to the execution of that transaction.

The Company takes into account the following criteria when determining the relative importance of the abovementioned execution factors:

- characteristics of the client;
- characteristics of the client's order (e.g. market, limit, stop);
- characteristics of the financial instrument(s) (e.g. commodity, currency, fixed income, equity);
- characteristics of the Execution Venues to which the order can be directed.

In general, the company regards price as being the most important execution factor when seeking to obtain the best possible outcome for clients. Although we endeavour to provide the best possible execution after having taken into account the above factors, we cannot absolutely guarantee that the price that we make available to clients at the time of opening or closing with us will always be better than one which is or might have been offered elsewhere. However, in certain circumstances the company may decide in its absolute discretion that the other factors mentioned above are more important than price.

- b) A description of any close links, conflicts of interests, and common ownerships with respect to any execution venues used to execute orders.

The company is not executing orders internally. In addition, the company does not have any close links or common ownership with respect to any external execution venues.

- c) A description of any specific arrangements with any execution venues regarding payments made or received, discounts, rebates or non-monetary benefits received.

Under company's Order Execution Policy, it must not receive any remuneration, discount or non-monetary benefit for routing orders to a particular Execution Venue as this could give rise to a conflict of interest between the benefit received by the company and its obligation to achieve the most favourable terms for the client.

- d) An explanation of the factors that led to a change in the list of execution venues listed in the firm's execution policy, if such a change occurred

There were no changes to the execution venues listed in the Order Execution Policy during 2017.

- e) An explanation of how order execution differs according to client categorization, where the firm treats categories of clients differently and where it may affect the order execution arrangements.

The company provides investment services to retail, professional and eligible clients. The company will apply Best Execution to transactions with Retail and Professional Clients dealing in Financial Instruments where it accepts an order or where it has expressly agreed to provide Best Execution. The company's Order Execution Policy does not apply to Eligible Counterparties; accordingly, we will not owe Best Execution in transactions entered into with Eligible Counterparties. However, this does not diminish the company's obligation to act honestly, fairly and professionally and to communicate in a way that is fair, clear and not misleading when dealing with Eligible Counterparties.

- f) An explanation of whether other criteria were given precedence over immediate price and cost when executing retail client orders and how these other criteria were instrumental in delivering the best possible result in terms of the total consideration to the client.

Speed Execution:

The Company places a significant importance when executing Customer's orders and strives to offer a high speed of execution within the limitations of technology and communication links. The use of wireless connection or dial-up connection or any other form of unstable connection at the Customer's end, may result in poor or interrupted connectivity or lack of signal strength causing delays in the transmission of data between the Customer and the Company when using the Company's electronic trading platform. This may result in the placement of the Customer's order at an out of date price, which the Company might decline and provide the Customer with a new quote (i.e. re-quoting).

Likelihood of Execution:

The Company relies on third party liquidity providers for prices and available liquidity. Although the Company executes all orders placed by the Customers, it reserves the right to decline an order of any type. The Company shall proceed to a settlement of all transactions upon execution of such transactions.

Size of Order:

Details on the Contract Specifications are available in the Company's website under 'DISCLOSURES' section.

The Company makes every effort to fill the order of the Customer irrespective of the volume. But, if this is achieved, it may be at the best available price as the market liquidity may allow at the time of execution.
